Camp Happy Days Night at The RiverDogs

Camp Happy Days, a non-profit organization dedicated to providing support and services to South Carolina's children diagnosed with cancer and their families, is excited to partner with The Charleston RiverDogs for Camp Happy Days Night at The RiverDogs on Sunday, September 12 at 5pm at Joe Riley Stadium. Presented by APECS Aerospace, and with support from The Boeing Company, Heritage Pools, HomeBridge-Charleston and ServPro of South and West Charleston, this home-run event is designed to help bring awareness to pediatric cancer and celebrate Camp Happy Days kids and families who are facing cancer.

September is Pediatric Cancer Awareness Month, and we will be encouraging our supporters to Go Gold while they enjoy an evening out at the ballpark! Camp Happy Days' families, volunteers and campers will fill the stands, enjoy ballpark treats, and watch some great baseball on this special night.

Camp Happy Days supporters are invited to the Segra Club, which overlooks the ball field and provides unparalleled views of the Ashley River. Tickets include an open bar and delicious food from RiverDogs executive chef Josh Shea. In addition to the comfort of the club, there are padded, stadium-style seats on the exterior to enjoy the game outside. There will also be an exciting silent auction with some great items to add to the fun.

Proceeds will benefit Camp Happy Days and support kids facing pediatric cancer in South Carolina. Since 1982, Camp Happy Days has welcomed all children with cancer across South Carolina without charge. A yearly summer camp is their signature program, but they offer much more: age-specific year-round programs, financial assistance, "dream dates," hospital visits, a holiday giving drive and more.

At Camp Happy Days, kids discover the power within them— as they share life-changing experiences with kids just like themselves who are battling cancer.
